

Your Trusted Partner in Package Protection

Online shopping is more convenient than ever, but it comes with a costly downside: porch piracy. Every year, millions of packages are stolen from doorsteps, leaving consumers frustrated and financially drained. The worst part? Filing claims through retailers, credit card companies, and shippers often feels like a never-ending maze with no guarantees.

But what if there was an easier way to protect your purchases and skip the hassle?

Say goodbye to porch pirates...and hello to stress-free shopping!

Break the Vicious Cycle

When a package is stolen, resolving the issue often feels like being trapped in a frustrating game of finger-pointing. The retailer blames the shipper, the shipper points to the credit card company, and the credit card company sends you back to the retailer—leaving you with no resolution and a lot of wasted time.

PorchPals breaks this vicious cycle by offering a streamlined, customer-first solution.

Hassle-Free Protection:

Forget the blame game. PorchPals simplifies the claims process, so you can resolve issues without the runaround.

Automatic Enrollment:

Your purchases are automatically covered when you shop with your preferred card—no extra steps needed.

Affordable Peace of Mind:

Comprehensive package protection for just a small monthly or annual fee.
